PROGRAM

EIGHTH ANNUAL SESSION

OHIO STATE EDUCATIONAL CONFERENCE

KEYNOTE:

Teaching as a Fine Art

Thursday, Friday, and Saturday
April 12, 13, and 14, 1928

Published fortnightly, except during June, July, and August, with but one issue in December, by the Bureau of Educational Research, Ohio State University.
Entered as Second-Class Matter, February 9, 1922, at the Post-Office at Columbus, Ohio, under the Act of August 24, 1912. Accepted for mailing at specified rates of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized February 21, 1922.

GREETINGS

FOR seven years the teachers and school administrators of Ohio have been coming in rapidly increasing numbers to the Ohio State Educational Conference. The numbers present and the interest shown each year have been convincing proof of the benefits which this Conference has been yielding to the people of Ohio who are interested in education. It is expected that the Eighth Educational Conference will enlist the attention and promote the interests of the educational public to a still larger degree and that the Proceedings clustering about the keynote, "Teaching as a Fine Art," will arouse such enthusiasm as to produce in all teachers the conviction that their work is of an artistic nature and that they are in the highest sense artists.

The University extends greetings to all who may be in attendance and places its facilities at their service.

The Department of Fine Arts will have an exhibit of students' work in Room 204, Hayes Hall.

HOME ECONOMICS

CAMPBELL HALL

By application at Room 220, Campbell Hall, visitors may be admitted to the Home Economics Nursery School from 9:00 to 12:30 Friday morning.

TESTS AND MEASUREMENTS

EDUCATION BUILDING

Because of the large mass of material which has now accumulated, a method of presentation different from that used at the earlier conferences has been tried in the past two years. By this method only the most available and best-known tests, arranged by subject and type, were displayed. The older and less-known tests were also available in a specially constructed file in the exhibit room for those who cared to examine them. This arrangement made it possible to locate readily the best available tests for any type of program with a minimum amount of time and effort. The method proved so satisfactory during the past two years that it will be followed again this year. As heretofore, lists of tests issued by the various publishers, bibliographies of books on tests and their use, and other material will be available for distribution. Someone who is familiar with tests will be constantly in attendance to answer such questions as visitors may care to ask.

TEXTBOOKS AND PROFESSIONAL BOOKS

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

Since the permanent exhibit of books maintained by the Library of the Bureau of Educational Research has become too extensive for adequate display during the Educational Conference, and since it is thought that visitors desire especially to examine recent books, the book exhibit this year will present only those publications which have appeared during the years 1926–28. The exhibit will be presented in the lobby of the Administration Building. Books published prior to 1926 may be consulted in Room 217, Education Building.

CONFERENCE NOTES

The management will appreciate prompt attention in the matter of personal registration as soon as visitors reach the campus.

For the convenience of Conference visitors, checkrooms for parcels and hand luggage will be operated in the Education Building and the University Library. There will be no charge for this service, and visitors are requested to refrain from proffering tips to the attendants.

Cafeteria service may be had either at Pomerene Hall, the Ohio Union, or Campbell Hall (Home Economics Cafeteria). Many restaurants and tea rooms near the campus also provide satisfactory meals.

During the past two conferences considerable time and energy were expended in an effort to secure a sufficient number of railroad certificates to allow reduced fares. Although the registration for each of the two conferences was in excess of four thousand, the minimum number of certificates, two hundred fifty, was not secured for either year. As a matter of fact, even though the attendance for 1927 was considerably in excess of that of 1926, the number of certificates was appreciably less in 1927 than in 1926. In view, then, of this situation, in which the number of railroad certificates is decreasing, although the total registration is increasing, it does not seem advisable to undertake to secure reduced rates for the 1928 Conference.

All officials who are in immediate charge of the different Conference activities will have their headquarters in the Education Building, High Street at Seventeenth Avenue. Persons who desire conferences with other members of the faculty should consult the list of office hours elsewhere on this page.

It has become a custom to announce certain office hours for the convenience of those who may desire interviews with the members of the faculty of the College of Education. In the past the office hours announced have been on Thursday afternoon from two to five o'clock and on Friday and Saturday mornings from eight to nine o'clock. Due, however, to the fact that certain sectional meetings will be held on Thursday afternoon it becomes necessary to limit Thursday afternoon office hours from four to five o'clock.

The following persons will be in their offices in the Education Building, unless otherwise indicated, on Thursday afternoon from four to five o'clock and on Friday and Saturday mornings from eight to nine o'clock:

Dean's Office
George F. Arps, Room 100

Bureau of Educational Research
B. R. Buckingham, Room 201
E. J. Ashbaugh, Room 202
